Ageing

Soil
granitic

Identity

Patiently cultivated on almost outcropping granite rock, with a southern exposure, this Riesling benefits from the best conditions for producing an exceptional wine. Schlossberg is also the oldest and largest in area of the Grands Crus of Alsace.

Winemaking

Alcoholic fermentation in stainless steel vats, followed by aging on the lees for at least 6 months. It is then patiently left to rest for at least a year before being sold.

Tasting

Eye

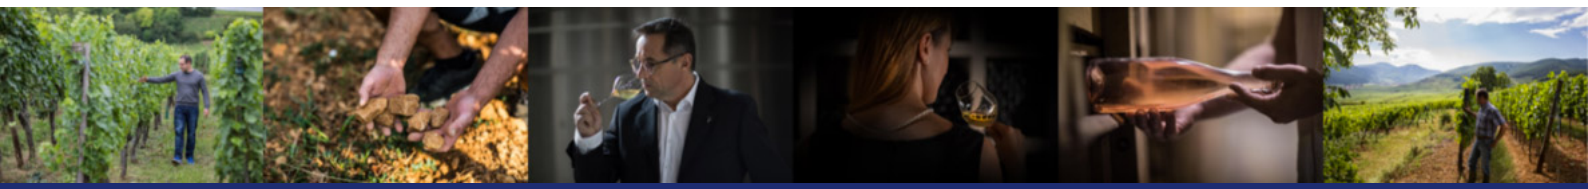
Gold, bright.

Nose

Floral, refined, with notes of pear and rhubarb.

Palate

Velvety mouthfeel, mineral attack and saliva, good length and subtle fruitiness (yellow fruits, citrus fruits).



L'ABUS D'ALCOOL EST DANGEREUX POUR LA SANTÉ. À CONSOMMER AVEC MODÉRATION.
